State Senate Votes To Lower Limit For Juries

Seen & Heard Around Murray

The General Accounting Office of the Federal government has revealed that the United States pays about $30 million a year in property taxes and rental to South Viet Nam landlords for use of facilities there. This is in addition to the $25 billion a year which is spent in the Viet Nam war.

This presumably is against United States policy, however we are doing it anyway.

The idea is that in a mutual defense situation, rentals and taxes are not to be paid.

However, we do the same thing in Thailand at the tune of $4 million yearly; Philippines, $600,000; Germany $2.2 million; United Kingdom $800,000; and Nationalist China $300,000.

Many roads in the county were in perfect condition to receive the worst possible damage from

Olus B. McNelis Reported Injured In Two Car Wreck

By GLEN CARPENTER

FRANKFORT, Ky. — (UPI) — The State Senate voted Thursday to lower the age requirement for serving on grand or petit juries from 21 to 18 and said county judges should have authority to grant paroles to persons convicted of misdemeanors.

"If they can fight for our country they are entitled to the rights of full citizens," said Sen. Charles B. Upton, R-Williamsburg, one of the sponsors of the jury service bill. It was adopted unanimously and now goes to the House of Representatives.

Sen. Thomas O. Harris, D-Worthville, told his colleagues the overcrowding of many Kentucky jails would be eased if county judges are allowed to grant paroles in misdemeanor cases. He added it would ease "hardship" cases also and the measure was approved without dissent.

But Sen. Henry Beach, D-Louisville, didn't meet with the same success when he tried to have a bill adopted which would require registration offices in first and second class cities.

Beach said he had received no unfavorable reaction from the bill, but apparently had not done his homework among fellow senators. Louisville Republican Walter S. Reichert wondered about the cost involved. Also raising questions were Sen. Donald L. Johnson, R - Fort Mitchell, and Robert D. Flynn, R-Lexington.

Both said their areas don't need the temporary registration offices for the cost involved and Flynn proposed the vote on the measure be postponed until next Tuesday so an amendment can be added, presumably striking second class cities from the measure. The postponement motion carried unanimously after Beach said he had no objection.

Both houses of the General Assembly took today off since Jan. 30 is former President Franklin D. Roosevelt's birthday, a state holiday. The Senate is to reconvene Monday at 3 p.m.

The upper chamber's second Sunday closing bill of the session was introduced by Sen. Delbert S. Murphy, D-Owensboro. The House currently has four related measures over the issue before it.

Murphy termed his bill a "model" measure which currently on the state of Missouri's statute books. He said it is a "workable plan." It has been upheld by Missouri state courts and lists goods which may not be sold on Sunday such as automobiles, clothing, furniture, housewares, hardware, jewelry, toys and others.

Permitted to be sold would be groceries and drugs. Violators are subject to fines and jail terms and an establishment in violation is regarded as a public nuisance.

"People from all parts of Kentucky are looking for some type of unity with this problem," Murphy said. "We need a plan that is proven."

Other bills introduced: SB 190 — Permit public employees to form unions and bargain collectively. SB 192 — Strike race from the identification needed for motor vehicle operator's licenses. SB 193 — Allow physicians to examine and treat minors afflicted with venereal disease without informing the parent or guardian. SB 194 — Allow local boards of education and school principals to utilize teacher's aides in supervisory roles. SB 198 — Permit contractors to withdraw the retainage on highway contracts and to put up bonds in lieu of it. SB 199 — Exempt the sales of used high school textbooks from the sales tax.

Kiwanians Hear Weisenberger

Attorney Richard Weisenberger, Mayfield, used a quotation by General George Washington, "Put Only Americans on Guard Tonight" as the topic of his speech before the Murray Kiwanis Club meeting last night at the Woman's Clubhouse.

At a critical stage in the Revolutionary War, General Washington, who had both American and professional soldiers in his non-descript army made the statement.

Weisenberger talked of the problems that face the affluent society in America today. In spite of our economic and technological progress, crime is increasing five times faster than our population. "It's time to take the handcuffs off policemen and put them on criminals," he said.

Other problems he discussed were rebellion among the youth, drugs, population explosion and air and water pollution. He said that too many policies were being determined by vocal minorities and he considers himself one of the "aroused silent majorities" who stresses the urgent need of meeting these problems now.

President Tom Turner presided and introduced the program. Joe Rose was elected to fill a vacancy on the Board of Directors.

The city police said that the Ford, going north on 4th Street, tried to stop for the stop sign at Poplar but the driver said she didn't have any brakes. The Ford collided with the Plymouth going east on Poplar which had stopped for the four way stop sign before starting across the intersection, according to the police report.

Damage to the Ford was on the front end and to the Plymouth on the right side.

New Civil Rights Issue Connected With Carswell

By ROY MCGHEE

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A new civil rights issue swirled today around the Supreme Court nomination of G. Harrold Carswell—his conduct in handling defendants and their lawyers in 1964 voter registration drives.

"In my judgment, it is the most damaging testimony so far," said Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., as the first week of hearings on the nomination ended.

John Lowenthal, professor of law at the Newark, N.J., campus of Rutgers University, accused Carswell of hostility to volunteers trying to register black voters and to their northern lawyers. He recited a personal experience he said bore out Carswell's 1946 pledge that he yielded to no one in "the firm, vigorous belief in the principles of white supremacy and I shall always be so governed."

Since his nomination Carswell has repudiated that statement, made in a campaign speech for the Georgia Legislature 22 years ago. He said that philosophy now is "obnoxious and abhorrent."

Lowenthal testified before the Senate Judiciary Committee Thursday, however, that when he went to Tallahassee, Fla., Carswell's home town, to get seven volunteers out of jail, he ran into resistance from Carswell, then a U.S. District Court judge.

Lowenthal said Carswell issued a habeas corpus writ "because he had no choice" under federal court rules. But, he said, Carswell refused to have a marshal serve the writ on the Gadsden County sheriff, as would be customary.

"He told me to serve it myself," Lowenthal said. The lawyer testified that he drove 25 miles to the jail, served the writ and the prisoners were freed. But, he said, they were immediately rearrested because Carswell had remanded them to the county court, in effect can-ing the writ. The remand also set bail.

The volunteers later obtained bail and Carswell's actions in the case were reversed by the 5th U.S. Circuit Court, Lower than said, Carswell was appointed to the circuit bench by President Nixon last May.

Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., substituting as presiding senator for Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., adjourned the hearings until next week.

Measures Are Presented By Minority Leader, Demarcus

FRANKFORT, Ky. — Two parts of Gov. Louie B. Nunn's four-point tax relief program announced last October were introduced in the House of Representatives Thursday by the House GOP leadership.

HB 316, introduced by minority leader William H. Demarcus, R-Standford, would exempt prescription medicines from provisions of the state's five cents on the dollar sales tax. The bill also specifically defines "prescription medicine."

Demarcus also introduced HB 313, which would remove the five per cent usage tax on the transfer of automobiles within a family, or transfer by will. The measure would also exempt the tax on motor vehicles transferred between merging corporations or used for partnership business only and transferred between members of the partnership.

Still to come are two more parts of the governor's proposed program which would increase the present $20 tax credit allowed to persons blind and over the age of 40 and from $40 to $80 if both blind and over 65. The other measure would raise the maximum standard income tax deduction from the present $500 to $800 per taxpayer.

In announcing his tax-relief program last Oct. 1, Nunn estimated the four-point proposal would reduce state revenue by approximately $20 million over the next biennium.

Both bills introduced Thursday provide that, if approved, they would go into effect by next July 1, the beginning of the next biennium.

Other tax bills introduced by Demarcus would delete taxes to be paid on various documents and provide that counties receive a percentage of revenue received from tax on power of attorney, mortgage, financing statement, security agreements and others.

Another revenue and tax measure introduced included a clause allowing the application of existing penalties for failure to file a declaration of estimated tax to individuals, and creates a new penalty for corporations for not filing a deduction of estimated tax.

Other bills introduced: HB 332—Excluding tangible personal property purchased by the state or federal government from the state sales tax.

HB329 — Notifying property owners and allowing them to be given an opportunity to be heard in reference to street or alley improvement to be paid at their expense.

HB 320 — Organizing new community districts to exercise general governmental powers within specific areas.

HB318 — A new garnishment law prohibiting pre-judgment attachment of wages unless the defendant has been given seven days written notice.

HB 322 — Providing that all motor vehicle operators licenses contain the blood type of the operator and any medical defects or allergies.

HB 322 — Specifying salaries for aldermen in cities of the first class shall be fixed by ordinance at $200 a month.

Bible Thought for Today

Leave... thy gift before the altar, and go thy way; first, be reconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift. — Matthew 5:24.

A gift to God, who is love, is never enough if we have no love in our hearts for our fellow man.

By Thurman Sensing

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

Southern States Industrial Council

SENSING THE NEWS

FOR EQUAL JUSTICE

The progress the Southern states have made in the last three decades can be attributed in part to changing attitudes toward the region among people elsewhere in the nation. For many decades after the Civil War, the South was the poor relation of the rest of the country. It was treated in a discriminatory fashion. No "foreign aid" or anything of that sort was granted to the South in the late 19th and early 20th century as its struggle to regain its economic place in the nation. The benefits known by such defeated nations as Germany and Japan were never lavished on the part of the United States that had known civil war.

Pulling itself up by its own bootstraps, the South rebuilt its financial institutions and commercial organizations. It persuaded national manufacturing companies to invest in the region. It was a long, slow process, but in the 1940s the South began to surge ahead. The quality of its state government improved dramatically, and the Southern states, with their strengthened economies, started to devote a much larger share of their revenues to education, both basic and higher. The vexing problem of freight rates, which retarded commerce, was eased. The federal government paid more attention to Southern ports. Industrialists elsewhere in the country gained a new appreciation of the ability and responsibility of the region's labor force and recognized that Southern legislatures were industry-minded and eager for progress through investor-owned enterprises.

The result of all this has been a wonderful forward movement on the part of the Southern states continuing from the 1940s into the 1970s. Patterns of Southern industrialization are changing, with more highly skilled and complex industries relocating in this region and making better use of the schools, colleges and universities of the South.

One reason the South has progressed is that its people believe strongly in local government and in other basics of the American political tradition. This region has few hippies and other dissenters from American ideals.

The universities are not factories of ideological unrest, which, tragically, is the case in some areas such as the Northeast. State governments are not dominated by the union bosses, who are virtual political czars in some Northern states. Thus opportunities for further advancement, through the free enterprise system, are extraordinarily good in the Southern states. Unfortunately, there are elements in the nation with a profound sectional bias against the South. There are those who want to radicalize the South and to punish it for not taking the ultra-liberal tack espoused in some influential intellectual circles. These elements have urged a double standard of judgment and justice. They would make the South's lot far harder than the lot of any other area.

We see this today in the determination to impose on the Southern states requirements for teacher transfers and busing of school children that are not made elsewhere. We see Southern school districts ordered to meet disruptive and virtually impossible timetables which are not imposed elsewhere in the nation.

It is tragic, shocking and almost incredible that after so many years of Southern progress there should be an effort to plunge Southern schools into chaos while the schools of other regions, with the same mix of students, should escape serious government interference.

Several Southern governors have made this point in recent days, and their appeal for equal justice should be heeded by fair-minded Americans in every state. The governors aren't refusing to after school systems according to court order; they are simply saying that if one type of school system is to be made mandatory for the South, the same system should be ordered for Massachusetts, Illinois, California and the other states. If a timetable is set for Atlanta, it should be set for Boston and Pittsburgh.

The United States can't have two sets of federal laws — one oppressive of the Southern states and one leaving the other states to do as they please in school arrangements. Constitutionally, the schools are the business of the states and local government. But the federal courts have ruled otherwise. It is intolerable, however, to see court orders issued that deprive the Southern states of equal justice under the law — that impose conditions of chaos on this region while leaving the schools in other areas virtually free of interference.

The unequal orders issued by the courts in recent weeks threaten to undo much of the progress made in the South over a period of many decades. The situation should offend the sense of fair play of the entire American people.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Most

investors appear to be "staging a buyer's strike for reasons that either are not properly applicable to current and foreseeable conditions or else are not well supported by precedent," Abraham & Co. says. It adds that two primary reasons for buying common stocks are being ignored: mounting likelihood that money growth has been revived and will not again be choked, and current valuations for a many high-quality common stocks are so far below average that they seem to bear little relation to the eventual resumption of the economy's normal long-term growth rate.

The market demonstrates its ability to stage many of its more gratifying rallies following periods in which the investing public "has been stampeded to the sidelines by fear of having to undergo an ordeal," Gould's Position notes. "Somebody has to be on the buying side when the amateurs evacuate, so professional control is reasserted while overhanging offerings convert to market sell orders and clear the uphill path, it adds.

The Seventies are a decade of promise, with many promising investment areas ready to open up as soon as national sentiment swings back toward optimism, Vance, Sanders & Co. says. Despite everything else that happened in the decade which just ended, the economy grew right on schedule, and investors can expect it "to do even better in the 1970s," the firm insists.

On this day in history:

In 1835 a demented painter, Ricard Lawrence, tried to assassinate President Andrew Jackson. He fired two shots at Jackson in Washington. It was the first attempted presidential assassination.

In 1933 the radio program "The Lone Ranger" was broadcast for the first time.

In 1948 Indian nationalist leader Mohandas Gandhi was assassinated by an extremist in New Delhi.

In 1962 Cuba was expelled from the Organization of American States.

A thought for the day: John Dryden said, "Men are but children of a larger growth."

WASHINGTON WINDOW

By LOUIS CASSELS

UPI Senior Editor

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Orville L. Freeman could be excused for thinking he served in the wrong administration.

Freeman, a Democrat, was Agriculture Secretary under John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson.

His two Presidents admired Freeman and usually took his advice on farm policy. But he was unable to get either of them to give all-out, top-level backing to his most cherished project.

Last week, in his State of the Union message to Congress, Richard M. Nixon embraced Orville Freeman's dream and made it a priority objective of his Republican administration.

Cities Too Crowded

Freeman has long contended—and President Nixon now agrees—that many of America's most serious social problems stem from a maldistribution of people.

Too many people are crowded into big cities, where they breathe polluted air, pay high prices for everything they buy, fray their nerves in daily battles with traffic congestion, and generally get in each other's hair.

Too few people live in small towns and open countryside, where air is clean, living costs are lower, traffic is light, and neighbors are neighborly.

Heavy Urban Migration

The imbalance is strikingly demonstrated by a single statistic: Nearly 70 per cent of the American people now live in metropolitan areas comprising only 1 per cent of the nation's land.

This concentration of population has resulted from a massive migration into urban centers which has been underway since World War II.

Freeman advocated, and Nixon now has formally proposed to Congress, the adoption of a "national growth policy" directed toward reversing the flow of population.

In a free society, the government obviously cannot tell people where they should live. What it can do is make town and country America more attractive as a place to live and work, so that people will voluntarily choose to make their homes there instead of in big cities.

This can be done by giving industry economic incentives (such as tax benefits) to locate new plants in more widely dispersed areas. Without jobs, there's just no way to keep 'em down on the farm—or in small towns.

It also will be necessary to support development of community services—such as good schools, hospital and cultural facilities—in existing towns which have a potential for growth and in new towns built from scratch.

This could be one of the most important programs ever undertaken in this country to improve the quality of American life.

For, as Orville Freeman is always telling anyone who will listen, "we can never solve the congestion, crime, poverty, unemployment and soaring welfare costs of our cities until we provide a practical and attractive alternative to many of the people who are now prisoners of the urban ghetto and megalopolis."

Murray State Opens Track Season Opens Saturday

Murray State University will open its indoor track season Saturday in a quadrangular meet at the University of Illinois. Illinois, Middle Tennessee, and Lincoln will be the Racers' opponents.

Among the 24 Murray entries in the meet will be Tommy Turner in the 600-yard dash; Lee Roy McGinnis in the 440; Darrrell Remole in the mile; Eddie Hearne in the 60-yard dash; Doug Morris in the pole vault; and Bob Hargrove in the high jump.

Turner set a national freshman record of 1:09.5 in the 600 two years ago and finished second in the NCAA Indoor. Last season, he placed second in the outdoor 440 in the National AAU Meet and was a member of the United States team that competed against the Soviet Union and Great Britain in Los Angeles and toured Western Europe for several meets.

McGinnis had the fifth best indoor 440 in the United States last year but injured a leg and sat out most of the outdoor season. Remole has a best time of 1:09 in the mile, Hearne a 6-flat in the 60, Morris a 15-6 vault, and Hargrove a 6-6 high jump.

Other Murray entries will be Tim Sparks in the shot put; Dave Hazelwood, Scott Leary, and Tom Williams in the long and triple jumps; Roger Worth in the high jump; Larry Coleman and Randy Smith in the 60-yard dash; Bill Clark and Steve Campbell in the mile; Bob Smith and Hazelwood in the 440; Al Hicks and Bill Huch in the 1000; Ashman Samuels in the 600; Coleman, Hearne and Randy Smith in the 300; Ed Postel and Remole in the 880; Morris in the 70-yard dash; and Jim Krejci, Gary Leighton, and Bob Wells in the 2-mile.

Coach Bill Cornell says the Racers' mile relay team of Coleman, McGinnis, Samuels, and Postel, or Bob Smith could be the best in Murray's history.

Other indoor meets on the Murray schedule include:

Feb. 7 - Indiana State and Purdue at Lafayette, Ind.

Feb. 14 - Mason-Dixon Games at Louisville.

Feb. 20 - Miami at Oxford, Ohio.

27-28 - Ohio State Invitational.

Mar. 6 - Western Illinois and Loyola of Chicago at Macomb, Ill.

13-14 - NCAA Championship at Detroit.

NICKLAUS LEADS WILLIAMS OPEN

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—Any time a man shoots a 65 in a golf tournament, you have to figure he's in pretty good shape.

Well, Jack Nicklaus shot a seven-under 65 in the opening round of the $150,000 Andy Williams San Diego Open Thursday but all it got him was a one stroke edge over Britain's Tony Jacklin.

Nicklaus, the defending champ who joined Arnold Palmer and Billy Casper as golf's only millionaires for finishing second in the Crosby tourney last Sunday, was among the first away in the first round here.

Four players—Al Balding, Julius Boros, Gay Brewer and Joe Goldstrand—were another stroke back with 67s.

Gene Littler, who lost the 1969 San Diego to Nicklaus by a stroke; Bobby Nichols, Don Massengale, Bobby Lunn, Paul Moran and Terry Dill were at 68.

The 69 group, three under par, was made up of Bob Rosburg, Tommy Jacobs, George Archer, Fred Marti, Johnny Miller and Paul Hamey. Fifteen players were at 70, 15 at 71 and 21 at 72.

Casper, who started the 1970 tour by winning the Los Angeles Open, was at 71, Dale Douglass, who took the Phoenix Open, also had 71 while Bert Yancey, who won the Crosby, was at 77.

Jerry Steelsmith and PGA champ Ray Floyd had problems, though.

Steelsmith, still thinking winter were in effect, lifted his ball out of the canyon on the 10th hole and was disqualified.

Floyd mistakenly carried 15 clubs, one over the limit, in his bag.

By the time the discovery was made he was penalized the maximum four strokes, which put him at 75 instead of 71.

COLONELS DEFEAT PIPERS 122-102

Coaching and scoring proved too much for Pittsburgh's Charlie Williams Thursday night and the Pipers went down to a 122-102 defeat at the hands of the Kentucky Colonels.

Williams, the Pipers' high scorer this season, was held to only eight points as he was pressed into service as a coach when regular mentor Buddy Jeannette was thrown out of the game for arguing with the officials over a goal-tending call.

The Pipers-Colonels clash also featured a fistfight between John Brisker of Pittsburgh and Kentucky's Sam Smith in the final period but not before Smith helped the Colonels to victory with 18 points. Smith was only one of five Kentucky players in double figures with Louie Dampier's 24 points leading the way. Arvest Kelly was high for Pittsburgh with 27.

In the only other game, Roger Brown's 34 points paced Indiana to a 127-123 triumph over Los Angeles for the Pacers' 37th win in 46 games.

Brown hit on nine of his last 10 shots and scored five of the Pacers' final seven points to help hold off the Stars. Freddie Lewis backed up Brown with 27 points while Tom Workman led Los Angeles with 24.

Snead Moves Up On Senior Lead Thurs.

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (UPI)—Sam Snead is still complaining about a constant case of the putting yips, but his long game was good enough Thursday to put him within one stroke of the lead of the PGA Seniors championship.

Snead said he had no more than his "usual problems" in the $40,000 Seniors event. He hit all the par-five holes in two shots but managed only one birdie because of an inconsistent putter.

The first-round lead of the 72-hole tourney was taken by veteran club pro Henry Ransom, who shot a two-under-par 70.

Tied in second place with Snead at 71 were former PGA tour pros Tommy Bolt and Paul Runyan, former PGA winners and regular tour standouts. Handler Harper and Marty Furgol landed in a 10-way log jam at even-par 72.

PTA Plans Cage Game

The Kirksey PTA men's and women's basketball teams will meet the Hazel teams on Saturday, January 31, at seven p.m. at the Kirksey school.

This is the first game for the Kirksey teams this year. Buddy Anderson is the coach for the men and Bill Crick is the coach for the women for the Kirksey teams.

Earlier in the school season members of the Kirksey, Hazel, and Almo Schools PTAs met jointly and made rules for the three schools in the playing of the games.

Rules are: Only members of the PTA with children in school with exception of own teachers will play; each PTA will furnish one licensed referee at home and away games; all players pay at every game; coach can take out persons displaying unsportsmanlike conduct; charge will be fifty cents for adults and 25 cents for grade children with under school age free; each team will have a man on the scoreboard; women will play six four minute periods and men play eight four minute periods; do away with three second under basket rule for women only.

It was announced that a tournament will be played between the teams.

The public is urged to attend the games at each of the three schools with the time and place to be announced by each school.

Knicks Beat Pistons

With the New York Knicks, as entertainer Jimmy Durante likes to say, "everybody gets into the act."

The Knicks, boasting the best set of reserves in the National Basketball Association, got another top performance from their talented bench Thursday night in beating the Detroit Pistons, 127-106, to up their Eastern Division lead to six games.

All 12 New York players saw action with the first reserve, Cazzie Russell, making an appearance only 85 seconds after the opening tip when Bill Bradley was forced to the sidelines with an injured ankle. Russell, who could probably start for any other team, turned in an 18-point effort while sub Mike Riordan tallied 13 points. Even rookie John Warren, usually the last of the reserves to see action, got into the game in the opening minutes of the second quarter.

All-Star center Willis Reed led New York with 25 points

Purcell Named New Tennis Coach, MSU

Bennie Purcell, assistant basketball coach at Murray State University, has been named the university's tennis coach.

Purcell will replace Jesse Spencer, who resigned the post to go into business.

Purcell, one of Murray's all-time great basketball players and a member of the university's Athletic Hall of Fame, has been on the Murray coaching staff since 1963. He coached the Murray tennis team in 1966 and guided the Racers to an Ohio Valley Conference championship. After that season, he devoted full time to basketball coaching and teaching.

He is one of the best amateur tennis players in the area, and his son, Mel, has won the 10-year old and under championship of Kentucky, Tennessee, and Arkansas the last two years.

Purcell holds both bachelor's and master's degrees from Murray. He received his undergraduate degree in 1952.

He played on Murray's OVC championship team of 1951 and was named to the All-OVC team in both '51 and '52. Last year he was named to the NAIA's Basketball Hall of Fame.

After graduating from Murray, Purcell played professional basketball for four years and then coached at Anna-Jonesboro and Mt. Vernon, Illinois, high schools before joining the university staff.

Celtics Are Concentrating On Playoffs

By GARY KALE
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Boston Celtics apparently have conceded the Eastern Division title and now are concentrating on merely making the National Basketball Association playoffs.

Matters came to a head Tuesday night when New York bombed Boston 133-100 to slap the Celtics with their fourth straight loss and fifth in the last six games. While Coach Tommy Heinsohn conducted a news conference outside the Boston dressing room, General Manager Red Auerbach conferred with the players.

Heinsohn then joined the group and it was 25 minutes after the game ended before the Celtic locker room door was opened.

Veterans Uneasy

It was revealed some of the veterans were disgruntled over sitting on the bench too long and the lack of cohesion on the court. Heinsohn and Auerbach may be plotting their own course of action and the rookies fit into their plans on a larger scale.

Boston used four newcomers with veteran John Havlicek in the fourth quarter after New York gained a 35-point lead with a minute remaining in the third period.

The Boston brass isn't ready to throw in the towel, however. The Celtics finished the regular 1968-69 season in fourth place and went on to win their 11th playoff title in 13 years. Boston currently is in sixth place, eight games out of fourth, the last playoff berth.

Havlicek Led Celts

Havlicek, the Boston team captain, discussed the situation in the Celtics dressing room after the press was admitted. He had scored 17 points in the first half, but spent most of the third period on the bench and played the fourth quarter without his usual coterie of veteran teammates. He tallied 19 points to lead Boston's anemic attack.

"This is the first meeting we've had this season," Havlicek added. Some of us are running scared, I guess. Anybody who isn't playing up to par may not feel safe enough to believe he'll stay with the club the rest of the season."

Larry Siegfried denied there was any rift on the club. "It's not the loss by 33 points that's humiliating," he said. "It's how you lose. We didn't play smart basketball. There were too many mistakes."

Heinsohn Testing Youth

Heinsohn agreed there were many mistakes.

"When you play the second half of a game with four kids who don't have too much experience you make a lot of mistakes," Heinsohn said. "Naturally, it's better if you can put them in one at a time so if they make an error it isn't too harmful."

"I think we have better potential on our bench than the Knicks have on theirs. We just don't get far enough in front often enough to give them the experience."

Knicks Cruised

Willis Reed and Walt Frazier each scored 24 points for the Knicks. They sealed the Celtics' demise with a combined 33-point effort in the first half as New York grabbed a 67-53 intermission lead before a crowd of 19,500, the 16th sellout of the season.

In the only other NBA game, Jerry West continued his torrid shooting by scoring 41 points as Los Angeles downed San Diego, 124-109, for the Lakers' fifth straight victory and the Rockets' seventh consecutive loss.

In addition to his scoring, West also was credited with 14 assists. Happy Hairston was second high scorer for the Lakers with 25 points while Elvin Hayes paced San Diego with 25.

Amidst a lovely setting of flowers and candelabra, Miss Connie Paulette Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Ralph Evans of Alto Route One, became the bride of PFC Larry Nories Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy N. Wilson of Paris, Tenn.

Rev. Keith Smith, assisted by Rev. John Bradley performed the double ring ceremony at the Bethel United Methodist Church on Saturday, January 10, at seven o'clock in the evening.

Mrs. Billy Carroll, organist, presented a program of nuptial music and played the traditional wedding marches for the processional and recessional. Miss Glenda Kelley, soloist, sang "Whither Thou Goest", and Miss Cathy Kelley, soloist, sang "The Lord's Prayer".

The ceremony was read as the couple stood beneath the white wrought iron arch entwined with lilies of the valley. Baskets of white gladioli were on each side of the arch flanked by the white tapers in the six branched candelabra. The family pews were marked with white bows and greenery.

Bride's Dress

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in her floor length wedding gown of white tulle, made and designed by herself. The dress was fashioned a-line style with white lace around the bottom and up the skirt to form a rectangle at the bodice. It featured a round neckline and long white sleeves with a single button and lace on the pointed sleeves.

Her floor length veil of illusion trimmed in the same lace was attached to a headpiece of flowers. She wore a single strand of pearls, gift of the groom. The bride carried a bridal bouquet of white carnations centered with a white orchid tied with ribbon streamers and seeded pearls attached.

Miss Anita Baldwin of Golo was the maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Suzette Evans and Miss Suzanne Evans, twin sisters of the bride.

The attendants wore floor length dresses of red tulle designed with empire waistline banded with white lace. They featured round necklines and were sleeveless. They wore large red bows in their hair and had long white gloves. They also wore small necklaces, gifts of the bride.

They carried bouquets of white carnations tied with red velvet bows and greenery.

Miss Lori Lynn Burkeen, niece of the bride, was the flower girl and was dressed identically like the attendants. She carried a white basket and scattered rose petals in the path of the bride.

Norman Hancock of Paris, Tenn., was the best man. Groomsmen were Kelly Farris and Terry Moon, cousins of the groom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Evans chose to wear a pink double knit two piece dress with black accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations. Mrs. Wilson, mother of the groom, wore an off white bonded wool dress with black accessories. She wore a corsage of red carnations.

Miss Sherry Wilson of Paris, Tenn., sister of the groom, kept the register. She wore a red

FASHIONETTES

By United Press International

The days of the somber skier are over. Not too long ago the snowy slopes were mainly streaked with black and dark blue outfits worn by both expert skier and novice alike. Women's ski fashions were the first to turn livelier, and more colorful. And this season, men's skiwear is catching up.

Eye-catching patterns are added to the brighter outfits when ski coats are doffed and the bulky-knit Scandinavian-type sweaters appear. Among the smartest after-ski slacks for him: richly colored velvet jeans.

There's a small revolution going on in the shoe business. Edith Henry Shoes is designing high fashion shoes for little girls. It's a new area of fashion, but with children's ready-to-wear following grown-up fashion trends, it's time for a change in children's shoes," says Hermann Rogge, president of the shoe firm. High fashion footwear for women is made by the firm under renowned labels such as Piccolino, Sabrina, and Enrico.

When the super-skinny high heel comes back on women's opera pumps, will the same type of high-heeled shoe be advanced for the sandbox and swing set? Only time will tell. High heels certainly would slow the little darlings down as they try to get from here to there.

Dear Abby

If hubby leaves house, he'll leave marriage

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I'm sure you've never had another letter like this one. The situation is as follows: My husband has never been a very sociable person. He doesn't enjoy being with relatives, his or mine. In fact, he's never enjoyed being with his own children. Our two eldest are now married and gone, and our youngest recently left for college, so my husband moved out of our bedroom and into the spare bedroom.

I like people, Abby, and always enjoyed having friends and neighbors drop in to visit. When this happened, my husband would feel so "intruded upon" that he'd just excuse himself and find someplace to go.

About a month ago he said it would be better for everyone if he got his own apartment just so he could be by himself. Knowing how stubborn he is, I didn't try to talk him out of it. You understand we aren't angry with each other or anything like that, and he can well afford the apartment. He comes back to visit me often, and seems in a much happier frame of mind. Of course, I'd rather have him home all the time, but I don't want him to be unhappy. No one knows about the apartment but me. What do you think of this setup?

DEAR WONDERING: I think your husband is going to extremes to "be by himself." [A den or spare bedroom to be used as his "private retreat" should suffice.] It seems to me that a husband who retreats "out" of the bedroom, then wants "out" of the house, will probably next want "out" of your life.

DEAR ABBY: I am the mother of two small children, and I am very much in love with my husband.

My problem is that I am extremely attracted to my husband's boss. When we see each other socially, I find myself wanting to be near him, and show my affection, but instead I greet him with polite coolness, and avoid him all evening. Oddly enough, I have the feeling that he is attracted to me, too.

Now, I think I have overdone it, Abby, and I am afraid I have hurt his feelings, and he thinks that I actually dislike him. Nothing could be further from the truth. Being an honest person, basically, this bothers me. Do you think I should tell him truthfully why I have been so cool to him? I don't like the feeling I have about the whole thing.

MIXED UP

DEAR MIXED UP: If you are looking for trouble, just "confess" to a man whom you find extremely attractive, and suspect the feeling is mutual, that you've been "cool" to him because you don't want him to know how much you really like him.

My advice to you is to discontinue the artificial winds from the north, and stick by your husband when his boss is in the company.

DEAR ABBY: I never thought I'd be writing to you, but here I go. I work in a fairly large office. All of the girls I eat lunch with are married, myself included. Every day without fail, one of the girls insists on discussing her marital affairs (and she doesn't leave anything out, either) with the girls at lunchtime. We all feel as tho we have a ringside (or should I say "bedside") seat in their private life. Is there any way someone can tell this person how we feel about this very private matter being discussed at the lunch table? Please sign me.

SICK OF SEX TALK

DEAR SICK: Yes. Why don't YOU take the bull by the horns and tell her?

CONFIDENTIAL TO "TALK ME OUT OF IT" IN CLEVELAND: Memorize the following gem of wisdom by Ella Wheeler Wilcox:
"Talk health. That dreary never-ending tale Of mortal maladies is worn and stale. You cannot charm or interest or please By harping on that minor chord, disease. Say that you are well, and all is well with you. And God shall hear your words and make them true."

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

A new hand instrument quickly and easily provides a super-smooth edge to the ice skate blades, the manufacturer says. The instrument reduces the number of costly skate grindings.

Drive the nail into the board... that is penetration! You may be sure it won't enter of its own accord. It must be driven with sufficient, well-concentrated, properly directed energy. It takes a real artisan to wield a hammer like that. It takes a genuine God to penetrate some of our lives the way He does too. Jesus "hit the nail on the head" when he said, "There is a way that seemeth right to a man, but the end thereof is the way of death." The Great Carpenter teaches us the fine art of living... how to flex the wrist to give the proper blow... to hold the tongue and protect a good name... to give a faithful witness and save a soul... to lose yourself in a cause infinitely bigger than yourself. Go to church Sunday and drive that nail straight and true. That's penetration!

Members of the Murray Woman's Club discuss issues of the 1970 legislation with Senator Pearl Strong of Hazard. The Murray Club members, Mrs. Don Keller, Mrs. Bethel Richardson and Mrs. Matt Sparkman visited the legislation during the Mid-Winter Board Meeting and Conference held in Frankfort on January 19, 20 and 21. All the legislators were guests of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs at a dinner on Tuesday.

EX-MRS. GRANT MAY GET OSCAR

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—They smirked when Mrs. Cary Grant spoke of her acting career.

They laughed outright at the titles of her three motion pictures. One film was so deplorable it was never released. The others were celluloid abominations. Even the ex-Mrs. Grant can't bring herself to utter the titles publicly.

It was with muffled amusement that Hollywood greeted the news that Dyan Cannon (this same former Mrs. Cary Grant) was to star in "Bob and Carol and Ted and Alice."

The cast was headed by Robert Culp and Natalie Wood, supporting them were Dyan and Elliott Gould—both unknown factors.

The Movie Is A Hit

The movie is a hit, primarily because of Miss Cannon and Gould.

"I was delighted by the response," Dyan said the other day. "The phone began ringing. Suddenly I was being offered lots of movie roles."

Dyan has been mentioned among critics for a nomination for best supporting actress. Odds are she will make it.

But prior to the movie, Dyan was principally identified as being the former Mrs. Cary Grant. Grant has never won an Oscar and it would be ironic if his ex-spouse collected an award in her first real opportunity as a film actress.

Dyan, an exciting brunette with large, luminous eyes and a fetching smile, was playing stock—"The 90-Day Mistress"—in Chicago when she was offered a test for her role as Alice at Columbia.

Has Offer From Universal

"I also had an offer from Universal to do a picture," she said. "But I decided to take my chances with the screen test."

"I don't think anyone took me seriously when I said I wanted to be an actress—before and after I married Cary. Now maybe I've changed a few minds."

Dyan was being modest. Producers, directors and agents were astonished at the professionalism of Dyan's performance. It was as if Mia Farrow disclosed that her stage name is Raquel Welch.

Dyan need not return to the hustings for appearances in road company productions in the foreseeable future.

The new believers already have signed Dyan to a pair of movies, "Doctor's Wives" and "The Traveling Executioners."

Young Lady Injured In Wreck on Tuesday

Miss Phyllis Yewell of 313 Broach Avenue, Murray, was treated at the emergency room of the Murray-Calloway County Hospital on Thursday at 4:30 p. m.

Hospital officials said she had an injury to neck. She had been involved in an automobile accident at North 10th and Chestnut Streets on Thursday morning at 7:10, an account of which was published in the Ledger & Times on Thursday. She had been reported not injured on the Murray Police Department report.

Dutch farm exports

SCHEVENINGEN, Holland (UPI)—Holland's exports of agricultural products in 1969 amounted to about 10 billion guilders ($2.8 billion), Dutch Agriculture Minister Pierre Lardinois said in a speech. He said agricultural imports totaled 6 to 6.5 billion guilders (about $1.8 billion). Lardinois said farm exports doubled in five years because of the European Economic Community (EEC), or Common Market.

Marine insurance drain

NEW YORK (UPI)—About 70 percent of the cargo insurance carried on U.S. imports and exports is controlled by foreign underwriters, according to John B. Ricker, Jr., president of Marine Office of America, marine insurance underwriters. This causes a balance of payments drain of some $175 million in premium dollars sent overseas by American importers and exporters, says Ricker.

The First International Arbitration Court opened in The Hague, Holland, in October, 1962.

Alabama has about 85,000 farms.

SUCCEEDS CERNICK Reflecting the growing strength of conservative forces in Czechoslovakia's Communist Party, Lubomir Strougal (above) has been named to succeed Premier Oldrich Cernick by President Ludvig Svoboda. Cernick and two other officials identified with the 1968 liberal reform movement resigned.

the heavy rain Wednesday night. The freezing and thawing had them in a spongy condition where a heavy rain would wash them away.

In practically every war the United States has engaged in, the US goes in when the conflict is over and rebuilds the country better than it was before the conflict. Witness: Germany and Japan.

The glaring exception was the Civil War in which the North was victorious. In this case the South was not only not aided, but conversely, it was subjugated, exploited and humiliated, and left to survive as best it could among the ruins.

We are working on a problem at our house with Lady the dog. She has these little dog biscuits that she likes to chew on and she is very distrustful of any one who gets near them. Well, now our grand daughter has some biscuits she chews on which are almost like the ones the dog chews on. May be made by the same company as far as we know. Anyway as our grand daughter pushes around in her stroller mauling this little biscuit, Lady follows her around with a look on her face of "what are you doing with my biscuit". She is firmly convinced a raid on her dog biscuits has been made.

Vietnam Center Of Gravity Has Shifted Back To Saigon

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

The center of gravity in the Vietnam War has shifted back from the Paris peace talks to Saigon where President Nguyen Van Thieu can count 1969 a fairly good year.

For Hanoi it has been a disappointing year.

And in Washington, President Nixon can put down some plus marks in his own ledger.

When Nixon took office a year ago, peace demonstrations in the United States and anti-American demonstrations in Europe were at their peak. A rising clamor demanded that the United States get out of Vietnam now and unequivocally.

The President rejected the latter course and began his phased withdrawal of troops.

Appeals For Time and Trust

He appealed to the "silent majority" for time and trust. A change in the draft law removed much of the suspense of years from the shoulders of millions of young Americans unable to plan or launch careers until they knew when or if they would be called to serve in the armed forces.

The result was to take the wind from the sails of the demonstrators and to give the President the time he sought.

The move toward Vietnamization of the war marked a clear change of course.

It was a practical application of the feeling of many that if the South Vietnamese could not defend their own interests now after more than 15 years of U.S. aid they never could.

Produces Action

It was not good news for the South Vietnamese who clearly preferred the United States to do their fighting for them but it produced action in Saigon.

And from it South Vietnamese President Thieu emerged in a position of strength probably greater than he ever had enjoyed before.

Time may still run out on both Nixon and Thieu but they enter 1970 in better shape than they entered 1969.

Defendants Cleared In Negligence Suit

By J. B. HICKS

BENTON, Ky., Jan. 29—The two-day old negligence lawsuit concerning the drowning of an 18-year-old Fredonia High School youth last May 5 came to an end late this afternoon as the jury found for the defendants.

The jury was given its instructions after 2:30 today and after a short deliberation issued its verdict awarding the plaintiffs none of the $99,990.95 sought.

Only ten members of the 12-member jury signed the verdict. Fredonia High School Principal Riley Dennington, teacher-coach Robert Hooks, and teacher Wanda Barnes, accused of negligence in the drowning of student Charles Russell Cox while on a senior class outing at Kentucky Dam Village, were among those who were called to the stand to testify in their own defense today.

The plaintiffs in the lawsuit, Mr. and Mrs. John Cox, parents of the victim, alleged that the three co-defendants were negligent in their son's death by failure to properly supervise swimming activities while on the trip.

The lawsuit contended the beach at which the drowning occurred was closed, that there was no lifeguard on duty, that no lifesaving equipment was available and that the two teachers co-sponsoring the trip permitted horseplay among the students without supervision.

The civil suit also contended the co-defendants were negligent in allowing the students to go swimming within minutes after eating at a nearby restaurant.

Dennington, under question by his attorney, Henry Whitlow, explained to the jury how he had heard about the incident sometime after 1 p.m. while at school. He said he rushed to the scene as soon as possible, even obtaining the assistance of a Kentucky state trooper.

He testified he was asked once before the trip by members of the class if they could go swimming.

Dennington said he told them it would be all right, but that they would "have to furnish a lifeguard."

He said he had approved of Hooks going on the trip.

Under cross-examination by James Story, attorney for the plaintiff, Dennington said he had the approval of Caldwell County School Supt. Odell Walker to let the senior class go on the outing. He said he knew the school board had ruled out "senior trips." He said the trip was allowed because it was "an educational field trip."

When questioned by Story concerning the permission to swim, Dennington said he did not ask Walker about it.

"He was not asked to authorize swimming," Dennington said.

Dennington explained he thought swimming would be all right, however, because it was part of recreation not unusual on such a trip.

Hooks took the stand in his own defense for the second time and essentially repeated earlier testimony.

He told the jury he thought quite a bit of time had expired from the time the senior class had eaten lunch and when some students went swimming.

Hooks said he had told several of the students to quit some horseplay, and that he had warned some not to go into the water too quickly.

Hooks was questioned on his swimming abilities by Story. He said that although he did not have a Red Cross lifesaving card of any type, he thought he was a proficient swimmer. He told of taking an intermediate course in swimming at Murray

State University.

Hooks then related to the jury what he knew about the actual incident that ended in Charles Cox's death. He said he was sitting on a bench about 15 or 20 feet from the water's edge when he saw three youths, one of which was Cox, swimming out to a diving board float.

Hooks said the last time he remembered seeing the three was when they were about half-way to the float. The next thing he said he knew he realized someone was "hollering."

The teacher said he ran down to the retaining wall at the water's edge and stripped off his shoes, socks and shirt and went to help.

"I didn't know he was in trouble until it was too late," Hooks said.

The teenagers who took the stand during Wednesday's testimony told how some of them swam to the raft and had called the three still on the bench to come on out as well.

They also related to the jury how all three of the swimmers had to have help, and that the victim was held above the water for a few moments but that he panicked. They said the victim went down once.

Others testifying Wednesday included a civil engineer who explained to the jury the make-up of the beach area; Tom Jones, a teenager who found the body in about 20 feet of water near the float, and Robert Morris, a senior class co-sponsor who declined to go on the trip because he said he was afraid something might happen and he might end up in a lawsuit.

"Baby Maker" started HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Robert Wise, producer-director of super-colossals — "The Sound of Music" and "The Sandpebbles" — began production of the low budget "The Baby Maker" for National General.

Warning gong on bell bottoms
SILVER SPRING, Md. (UPI) — When shopping for bell bottoms make sure each pair is drycleanable. The National Institute of Drycleaning cautions that there has been an increase in the number of bonded bell bottoms that have not stood up to drycleaning. In most cases, the bonded fabrics separate because of poor adhesion in manufacture. Drycleaners are not able to restore bonded fabrics that separate.
Brainy surplus
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's bumper crop of P.H.D.s is finding there are more degrees than jobs, the National Education Association (NEA) reports.
One proof: more than 2,000 P.H.D.s and doctoral candidates sought interviews for positions at 225 colleges during the American Historical Association meeting here. This was an increase of 1,000 over last year's total job-hunters equipped with the doctor of philosophy degree. The Modern Language Association, meeting in Denver, drew 1,700 hopeful English and foreign language P.H.D.s. They were competing for some 280 positions being offered.
Donation
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Charles Boyer announced that assets of the French Research Foundation will be donated to the Theater Arts Department of the University of California at Los Angeles.

Quotes From The News

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL
WASHINGTON — Sen. Thomas J. McIntyre, D-N.H., urging that antitrust provisions of the Newspaper Preservation Act be limited to nonchain papers without radio or TV links.
"The alleged purpose of this bill is to save dying editorial voices... the least we can do is to restrict its application to instances in which such voices are in total danger of total extinction."
CAIRO — Mohammed Hassanein Haikal, editor of the semi-official Al Ahran, proposes guidelines for his fellow Egyptians in his weekly column:
"Our hatred of the enemy (Israel) should be without limits. Our readiness to fight him should be carried to the extreme. Our preparedness to kill him should be without hesitation."
NEW YORK — Federal Mediator J. Curtis Counts, announcing tentative settlement of the 14-week-old General Electric strike: "This is an example showing that collective bargaining can work."
PLAINVIEW, Tex. — Paul Butler, dean of students at Wayland Baptist College, reports progress in the collection of 400,000 Betty Crocker coupons to help buy a kidney machine for a former classmate.
"Late Thursday, the count... was 397,000 and we had several filled classrooms still uncounted. We hope today to surpass the 400,000 mark."
